Dear Friends:

The Citizen's Foster Care Review Board (CFCRB) was founded in 1992 as a non-profit 501c3 organization. It was based on a belief that Panels of trained, involved, inquisitive and diverse citizens could provide the extra time and attention needed to support children who are in the foster care or dependency systems. Each year, the CFCRB directly assists an average of 250+ children that are being monitored by the Department of Children and Families. Yes, even in "Paradise", there are children in peril and in harm's way.

Collier County has an ever-expanding Dependency Court docket and that's where the CFCRB comes in. The CFCRB supports the Court by conducting Judicial Reviews on a rotational basis with the Judges. Cases often include issues of neglect, substance abuse, mental illness, and domestic violence. Our Panels hold parents, caregivers and agencies accountable to correct the problems affecting these families or pursue other permanent options for the children.

The CFCRB receives no governmental funding and must rely on fundraising and grants to support our mission. We are excited to report that the Ray Foundation believes in the work we do and has offered us a matching grant up to $10,000.00. That's right - we can raise additional money for every dollar generously given! Your donation will help us protect and advance the interests of abused and neglected children who come under the jurisdiction of Collier County's Dependency Court.

We understand you get many requests for donations, but we hope that these children are at the top on your list! We simply can't do it without you. Your support will make a real, lasting impact on the lives of those who are in need. Please, make your donation now. Go to <http://www.cfcrcollier.org/> and click the "Donate" button.

Thank you so much for your continued support and friendship.

With sincere gratitude,

Thomas J. Wedlock

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

As stakeholders in the dependency court system we share a common goal---to preserve families and protect children. Guided by core values of impartiality, fairness and integrity, the thirty-one volunteer panel members of the Citizen's Foster Care Review Board (CFCRB), conducted 241 judicial reviews involving 361 children in Collier County. The number of Cases and children served increased by 16% over 2017. Marking our 26th year, we look forward to continued service to the community and the court.

Pursuant to Florida Statute 39.702, the CFCRB submits its annual report to the 20th Judicial Circuit Chief Judge, Michael McHugh. It is also shared with our Dependency Judges, State and local child welfare agencies and related stakeholders within the community.

This annual report summarizes the data collected by the CFCRB panel members during judicial reviews in a single year and compares it to previous years. The primary cause of entry into the system remains substance abuse. Placement of children with relatives slightly decreased in 2018, while licensed foster care placements increased from 12% to 28%.

As changes and improvements in programs are made over the years, challenges remain. Stakeholders and the community must continue to work together to find solutions. This is where the CFCRB is in a unique position to serve as a link and voice to the community.

THE WORK OF THE CFCRB

We were established in 1992 under Florida law through the efforts of Dependency Judge Ted Brousseau. Citizen panels were established to allow more time for review of dependency cases, thus allowing judges to focus on more complex cases. Since 1992, the Board has been an important and valued community partner with the Collier County Dependency Court by providing these panels of trained volunteers to perform Judicial Reviews.

Acting under the authority of the Dependency Court, panels of 5 well-trained volunteers conduct judicial hearings to evaluate the parent's progress towards fulfilling the tasks required for resolution of their case, and the return of the children to their home, or another permanent placement. To accomplish this task, our Panel Volunteers contributed over 2,500 volunteer hours in 2018.

Based on the information received at these hearings and calling upon their backgrounds and experiences, the panels make recommendations to the Dependency Court Judge regarding the safety of the children and the progress of the family toward case resolution. Upon acceptance by the Judge, the recommendations become fully enforceable court orders.

Pursuant to Florida law, a judicial hearing in a dependency case must be held at 3-to-6 month intervals to determine whether it is advancing in an expeditious and appropriate fashion. At the discretion of the Dependency Court, this hearing may be held before a CFCRB panel. Panels hear cases at least every six (6) months and again at around nine (9) months. This allows for greater continuity and familiarity with the cases. At 12 months, the case goes to the Dependency Judge for a permanency hearing. Hearings are held in the Collier County Courthouse in a judicial setting with the panel acting as "eyes-and ears" of the court.

Prior to each hearing, panel members review the case documents provided by the Court. The parents, the Department of Children and Families, the case manager, caregivers, Guardian ad Litem, the children, and the attorneys representing the parties to the case attend the hearing. Each person present is questioned by, and entitled to be heard by the panel. The children who are the subject of the proceeding are required by law to be present. They are offered the opportunity to speak with the panel, out of the presence of the other parties, thus encouraging open communication.

The panel examines the safety, education, enrichment activities, physical (medical/dental), psychological and emotional needs of the children. When a need is identified (for example, medical treatment, tutoring or counseling), the panel, working with the other parties, seeks to identify a potential remedy, which is then included in its recommendations to the court. The goal of the panel is to reduce the instability that dependency instills in the children and their families by encouraging the team of people involved to move effectively and efficiently to create a permanent solution for the children so their lives can move forward in a safe and stable environment.

At the end of the hearing, the panel makes recommendations to the Court. Once reviewed and approved by the Court, those recommendations become an order of the Court that must be complied with by all parties.

Studies show that the sooner children are returned to a secure and stable living environment with adequate support services, preferably with their families, the better they fare.

The negative impact of a dependency proceeding on children and, indeed, the entire family is undeniable. The longer the proceeding and the related instability, the greater the negative impact. It is widely acknowledged that children who linger in dependency situations suffer short and long term detrimental effects, which may be demonstrated in psychological, social, physical, emotional and/or educational behaviors.

By helping to avoid unnecessary delays in the dependency process, the panels help to ensure the safety and well-being of the children while expediting permanent placements. The panels bring the objective voice of the community to the dependency process. In addition, by bringing the experience, thought processes and intellectual efforts of five trained members of the community to bear on each hearing, a comprehensive analysis of each case will result. At the same time, the panels ensure the accountability of all participants in the proceedings, and afford all parties - but, particularly the children - the opportunity to be heard.

Finally, by assuming part of the burden of the Dependency Court, the panel's work provides the judicial process the ability to focus more time and attention on each case in pursuit of an optimal outcome.

Our vision remains steadfast in its commitment to children, young adults and their families in the Dependency system---That every child has the most meaningful possible outcomes; that the court reach timely resolutions; that every child and young adult lives in a safe, secure, healthy and permanent home and that families are reunified whenever possible.

REASONS FOR JUDICIAL INVOLVEMENT

Cause	*Children Affected
Substance Abuse/Parent	254
Domestic Violence	141
Neglect	80
Mental Health/Parent	60
Incarcerated Parent	38
Physical Abuse	28
Abandonment	26
Sexual Abuse	16
Child Behavior	9
Deceased Parent	8

* Cases can involve multiple reasons for judicial involvement.

Children ages 0-2 continue to be the largest grouping by age involved in the judicial system. However, children ages 3-5 have now overtaken the 6-10 age group to be the second highest grouping. The majority of children were placed in Out of Home care (84%). In 2018 the number of children placed in licensed foster care rose from 12% to 28%. Substance abuse and domestic violence in the home remain the primary reasons for judicial involvement. With substance abuse at epidemic proportions, the parent's case plan tasks are carefully reviewed to ensure that the appropriate support services are being provided and that all "reasonable and appropriate efforts" are made to reunify the family.

BARRIERS TO PERMANENCY

The primary barrier to obtaining permanency for children remains with the parents. Our goal in monitoring barriers to permanency is to identify ways in which, these barriers can be eliminated, so children do not linger in care, but achieve permanency quickly. Ensuring that appropriate support and services are provided to the parent is paramount to decreasing those barriers. Parents' non-compliance with case plan tasks -- not taking ordered drug screens and not completing case plan tasks, were the most frequently identified barriers. The concerns identified for legal, guardian ad litem, caregiver and case management were few. The panel works closely with all parties involved in a case to seek alternatives in eliminating barriers whenever possible.

20TH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT COURT UNIFIED FAMILY COURT COLLIER COUNTY JUDGES:

The Honorable Judge Joseph G. Foster

The Honorable Judge Christine H. Greider

For their continued support and guidance. Both judges have supported us in many ways; chairing meetings, attending in-service trainings/meetings, offering constructive criticism and general encouragement. Administrative Judge Greider was instrumental in assigning bailiffs and providing a deliberation room during our proceedings, which provides a safer and professional environment for panel deliberations.

20TH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT COURT DEPENDENCY COURT CASE MANAGER FOR COLLIER COUNTY:

Judicial Reviews could not run without the additional support and dedication of Dependency Court Case Manager, Judy Groos. Mrs. Groos oversees the CFCRB scheduling of cases, distribution of court files and documents to panel members and communications liaison between the judges, the board and steering committee. She provides a vital link between the dependency court and the service the CFCRB provides.
